

COMMUNIST GOVERNMENT IN AUSTRIA TO BE PROCLAIMED; ARMY BELIEVED BOLSHEVIKI

Dispatch to London Asserts Radical Movement is Assured of Success.

GERMAN REPLY SATURDAY

Indications Today Are That Decision of Allied Conference on the Tonic Notes Will Not be Ready for Delivery Until Late in the Day.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, June 12.—A communist government will be proclaimed in Austria on Sunday, with promise of immediate success, according to information in government circles here.

The best information indicates that about 40 per cent of the Austrian army is Bolshevik. The Communists are expected quickly to align themselves with the Hungarian Communists.

PARIS, June 12.—There is increasing belief in peace conference circles today that the reply to the German counter proposals would not be ready for delivery before late Saturday night. Five days have been definitely fixed as the limit within which the Germans must decide upon their course.

The reply to the counter proposals, according to French conference sources, agrees to a publicist in Upper Silesia, subject to certain clearly defined conditions.

There is an evident impression in Paris that the Allied reply will refuse the German request for important alterations in the terms of peace. The Germans will be given five days in which to make up their minds as to their course. This final action by them on the treaty may be expected on or about June 13.

While the council of four probably will explain the provisions of the treaty and may grant some minor concessions it appears there are to be no changes that will materially lighten the burden placed on the enemy by the treaty presented May 7.

A dispatch from Coblenz tells of the Germans withdrawing all materials from territory east of the Allied bridgeheads and says that armed German forces also have retired a considerable distance east of the ground held by the Allies on the east bank of the Rhine. That there is a disposition on the part of the German civilian population to be prepared for an Allied advance into Germany also is indicated.

Later advices from marine observers were that the Patricia had dropped the Graf Waldersee and that two tugs at 10.30 A. M. were towing her towards Long Beach, L. I., with the evident intention of running her aground there.

Several members of the crew of the Graf Waldersee were injured when the vessel was rammed.

The Redondo, entering port this morning, reported all the Graf Waldersee's company, including 10 officers and 400 men of the crew and nine army officer passengers safe on board the transport Patricia which was towing the damaged vessel, her hold partly flooded, toward this harbor keeping close to the Long Island shore.

FEDERATION OF LABOR

Opposes War-Time Prohibition and Favors 2% Per Cent Beer.

By Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 12.—The American Federation of Labor went on record yesterday as being opposed to war-time prohibition by adopting, after a spirited debate, a resolution in protest against both the act effective July 1 and the constitutional prohibition amendment. The resolution also requested Congress to make an exemption in favor of 2% per cent beer.

During the discussion following the introduction of the resolution President Gompers declared that organized labor had done more than any other agency in the world to further temperance, because it has brought about higher wages and shorter hours.

"Persons who are weak indulge in booze," he said. "People take their booze in different ways. Some take pie or ice cream or grape juice. I have no intention of discussing the merits or demerits of booze. But I do say this: It has been scientifically demonstrated that 2% per cent beverages are not intoxicating."

A fight against the resolution was led by delegates from the Seattle Central Labor Council.

UNABLE TO GET OPIATE WOMAN TRIES SUICIDE

Bullet From Revolver Goes Through Mrs. Laura Worman's Head, Blinding Her.

Crazed over inability to secure laudanum, which she had been taking for some time, Mrs. Laura Worman, 53 years old, a widow residing at Dunbar, attempted suicide this morning at her home by shooting herself with a revolver. The bullet entered her forehead, passed through her head and struck her left wrist, she evidently having her hand back of her head when she committed the act. She was rendered blind and as yet the doctors are unable to tell if the loss of her sight will be permanent or only temporary.

Mrs. Worman's son said that for some time his mother had slept with a revolver under her pillow for her own protection. This morning before he left for his work she asked him for it and before giving the weapon to her he took all the cartridges out, not knowing that she had others. He had been gone from the house only a short time when his mother attempted to take her life.

RAIDED PROGRESS BEING MADE ON ROAD TO DUNBAR

Work to Be Completed By September 1, According to Plans of Supervisors.

Rapid progress is being made on the township road improvement from the Dunbar borough line to the state road on Hair's hill. Although work was begun but little more than a week ago, the grading has been completed for the eighth of a mile, and looks good. Yesterday the steam roller was put to work on the fills. There is comparatively little grading the rest of the half mile, but considerable filling will have to be done, widening the road. It is hoped to be ready by July 1 to begin the making of the concrete bed, and as soon as a part of this is ready the laying of the brick surface will commence. If all goes well the road will be ready for use by September 1.

Many persons visit the work every day, showing much interest in this improved road so long sought and at last to be achieved. Joseph Myers, who has immediate charge of the grading, has had much experience in handling concrete and Supervisor C. V. Hardy is determined that nothing but the very best shall go into the construction of this road. He said yesterday that he wanted it to serve the people long after he had gone to his reward.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY RANKS AS BEST SEEN HERE

Over Two Hours Long But Every Minute of Performance Enjoyed.

By Associated Press.

CAST IS WELL SELECTED

Without Exception the Characters Perform Parts Excellently; Play Is Notable for Absence of Amateurish Breaks; Capacity House Out.

By Associated Press.

A capacity house last night witnessed the production of "What's in a Name?" a farce comedy by members of the high school graduating class. The play, difficult to enact with all its "complications," was well carried out by the cast which displayed exceptional talent.

Every character was excellent, and it is hardly possible that Miss Margaret Baker, of the high school faculty, who directed the play, could have made a better choice in her selections for the parts. Although the play was long every minute of it was thoroughly enjoyed. There was no amateurishness displayed and in a term not taught in high school, "it went over strong."

The play, written by Leona Dalrymple, had an interesting plot throughout and its many entanglements kept the audience in continual laughs. The trials and tribulations of Robert Rudd, Jr., whose part was played by Charles Sheetz, as the son of Colonel Robert Rudd, a widower of North Carolina, enacted by Joseph McConnell, in bringing his father around to agree to his marriage with Marjorie Byrd, which role was filled by Miss Mary Towzey, as daughter of Colonel Richard Byrd, a widower of South Carolina, played by James Laughrey, brought about many "tense" scenes, which held the close attention of the house.

Joseph McConnell and James Laughrey made ideal old southern colonels, "deadly" enemies due to a misunderstanding, and fitted well into their makeups. As Robert Rudd, Jr., Charles Sheetz was the "typical young rascal" his father termed him but he finally won the girl of his heart even though he did take drastic means to do so.

Marjorie Byrd, daughter of the South Carolina colonel, who enters the northern colonel's home as a maid, was excellent. She carried off her part well and easily won the consent of her "employer" for her marriage to Bob Rudd, Jr.

Mrs. John Carroll, a widow, and sister-in-law of Colonel Rudd, was played by Miss Margaret Hetzel. She could not have carried out her role better. Her part as an exacting mother and her anxiety over the way Colonel Rudd conducted his home gave much strength to the play.

Julia Carroll, her daughter, was enacted by Miss Anna Marian Soisson, who also had her troubles in carrying out plans of her own for marrying the man she loved. This man was C. Edwin Keagy, portraying Ned Graydon, a young man with an exceedingly faulty memory.

Keagy's entrance into the plot made the affair at Colonel Rudd's house more complicated, and his faulty memory made the situation more than Bob Rudd, Jr., could handle. Keagy carried out this part excellently. Not much acting was necessary on his part, the role fitting him naturally.

George Struble appeared as James Bascom, Colonel Rudd's lawyer. He assisted the colonel in disheartening his son.

Another excellent part, well carried out, was that of Ching-ab-Ling, played by J. Howard Robinson. "Crane," as he is known to everyone, made a fine Chinese cook and proved himself indispensable in Colonel Rudd's household. The one other character of the play was Ching's black cat, which appeared in the last scene.

Miss Baker, who directed the performance, received numerous congratulations on its success. Connellsville high school has a name for putting on high class productions and the play last night did not lower this standard one whit.

Stage furnishings for play were loaned through the courtesy of the Aaron company and the Wright-Moeller company.

Tonight the class day exercises, "Every Senior" will be given. No admission will be charged for this but tickets which have been issued to relatives of students will be honored at the Prospect street door of the school building until 8.15 o'clock. At that time the main entrance on Fairview avenue will be thrown open to the public. The exercises will also be repeated tomorrow afternoon, primarily for the benefit of students and any who might not be able to attend tonight.

THINK BEFORE YOU SPEND

Wouldn't it be better to save for something worth while?

We all spend too much for trifles that we really do not need. Nine times out of ten it would be better to save the money for something of lasting value—a home, for instance, which in these days of high rents is a mighty good investment. Liberal interest is paid on savings at the First National Bank and an account may be opened with any sum from $1 up.—Adv.

A Working Girl's Life.

Day in and day out, month after month, she toils. Often she is the breadwinner of the family and must work that others may live. Rain or shine, warm or cold, she must be at her place of employment on time. A great majority of such girls are on their feet from morning until night, and symptoms of female troubles are early manifested by weak and aching backs, dragging-down pains, headaches and nervousness. Such girls are asked to try that most successful of all remedies for woman's ills, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been giving girls strength to do their work.—Adv.

SCOTSDALE, June 12.—Conferences are still being held by the en-rate fight that can be settled by the engineers will be settled before the matter is again carried before the commission. The Citizens' Water company is sending men out putting in meters. Where people object to their being put in the men are not insisting. On Fourth avenue had allowed meters to be installed and that this was the only street in town

where every person had refused them.
Where people are stating when asked what they wish done, "I will not tell you to put the meter in nor will I tell not to," they are going ahead immediately and installing the meter.

UNIONTOWN HAS PART IN PAGEANT FOR WOMAN'S DAY

Brownsville, too, is Assigned an Episode in Historical Feature of Home-coming.

At a meeting of the executive committee of women's day of the homecoming celebration Tuesday night
Mrs. J. French Kerr, general chairman, named her committees for the "Historical Pageant of Fayette County," to be presented on the evening of women's day. Reports submitted showed that plans for the part the women are to take in the celebration
were progressing rapidly.

At a meeting Tuesday afternoon in Uniontown, with Mrs. J. French Kerr presiding, Uniontown decided to take part in the pageant; representing the fourth episode, the visit of Lafayette in 1820, the flower girls and dancers,
a minut of 24 men and 24 women,
being a feature. It was suggested by Uniontown representatives that the pageant be presented in that city the following week, during Uniontown's home-coming celebration, but no definite action was taken. However, it is possible that the pageant will be presented there.

The pageant is in five episodes, the first anticipating the settlers in Fayette county. Brownsville will have the second, with the coming of Wendell Brown and Christopher Gist and his friends. Connellsville will present the third, the French and Indian war events of the 18th century. The final episode will be the review of the county's history with "Progress" as the allegorical figure watching history and industry bring the country to its present high position.

HOW TO REDUCE VARICOSE VEINS

Many people have become desperate because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.
If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first class drug store and apply it at home as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced.

Moore's Emerald Oil is very concentrated and a bottle lasts a long time.
That's why it is a most inexpensive treatment. It has brought much comfort to worried people all over the country and is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and always bear in mind that anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. Your druggist can supply you.

THE SPOTS SWAM BEFORE HER EYES

But This and Mrs. Kirby's Other Ills
Surrendered to Nerv-Worth.

Read and inwardly digest this striking signed statement. It is worth repeating:

"I have had nervousness for five years. No sleep, no appetite, nervous headache, backache, always tired. My work was a burden to me. Was not able to do my housework half the time. Was dizzy and spots swam before my eyes. My whole body would tremble. I have taken Nerv-Worth for a few days and must say I am already beginning to feel better and from my experience thus far I certainly will recommend the medicine.

"MRS. HANNAH KIRBY,
"No. 17 Chesap St., Cumberland, Md."
Nerv-Worth is a family nerve tonic which does good and good only. Composed of vegetable ingredients it confers rich benefits upon the system and leaves not the least ill effects behind.
It is truly a family tonic, blessing alike to the weak, nervous infant, the worn-out veteran and men and women of all ages.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take a Cent of anyone's Money Unless Alleviate Completely Rashes All
Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times
this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of using he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Connellsville Drug Co., can supply you.—

war under the handicap of such an obnoxious, unworkable, congested and incompetent head of the Navy Department, and now heartily are the members of the Navy League to be commended for the patient, persistent efforts they made to care for the men of the Navy when obstructed at every turn and opposed in every way by the man, who of all others, should have lent every encouragement to the work!

Finding a "bigger man than Vice President Marshall" as speaker at the Home-Coming Celebration tonight, not to be a very difficult task. Physically he weighs only 137 pounds; oratorically, somewhat less.

For a brief time Republic had all the thrills of a "lynching" in what proved to be just a plain suicide.

Premier Clemenceau is giving the peace treaty revisionists to understand that they are merely to dot the "i's" and cross the "t's"—not to materially change the text.

Waiting for discharge at the demobilization camps has terrorized the boys of the 30th Division never knew when waiting for the order to "Charge!" on the fields of France.

Some real enforcement of traffic regulations in all the city needs to put a stop to the abuses which had begun to annoy careful drivers quite as much as the long-suffering pedestrians.

Unshackle Business; Reduce Income Tax

Baltimore Manufacturers Record.

The war was fought not merely for this generation, but for all generations to come. It disrupted our economic conditions; it seriously increased the cost of living; it required the breaking up of family ties and of business connections, and threw up on the young men called to the colors and upon their loved ones the tremendous burden of personal sacrifice, suffering and death.

That all future generations have been saved by the heroic struggle of this generation is in itself a reason why future generations should pay the greater portion of the cost of the war.

It has now been decided by our Peace Commissioners that America is not in any way to be reimbursed by Germany, a very great mistake as we view this matter, and hence taxes must continue to be heavy, but the income taxation with its surtax and excess-profit tax is a burden to business which necessarily hampers and restricts all business operations at a time when the freest business activities should help to save the country from industrial and financial depression and from Bolshevik agitation.

To the utmost extent, consistent with the burdens resting upon the nation, business should be unshackled and the hampering power of the fearful system of taxation should be eliminated. The income taxation on individuals and on business interests should be simplified in order that the vast amount of time now given to making out income tax returns might be saved for more useful employment.

It is almost impossible for anyone not a thorough accountant to make reply to the income-tax questions. The whole system needs to be greatly simplified, and when this has been done, then there should be a marked reduction in the amount of taxation on individual and business incomes.

At present these taxes are so heavy that they retard the expansion or the enlargement of existing plants. There are many ways in which this situation could be bettered. In part it could be done by freeing from taxation the investment of earnings in government bonds, which would give a strong and ready market to government securities. It could be done in part by the elimination of excess taxes on all profits invested in the extension of plants or in building activities which would give employment to people. It could be helped by freeing from all excess taxation all money loaned on mortgages to secure the building of dwellings, and possibly that put on business structures.

This would tremendously stimulate house building, to the advantage of the whole country.

In the effort to deflate wages and prices, it is quite certain that many interests will seek to bring about a redemption of government bonds in a much shorter time, on the theory that deflation will lower wages and lower the cost of living, and therefore prove beneficial, especially to the banking interests. Any effort of this kind would be unwise. The country should definitely put the redemption of bonds far ahead, in order that increasing wealth due to the expansion of the country's industries will later make much easier the paying off of these bonds, without any strain on the country or without bringing about deflation in a way which would prove disastrous and chaotic to business interests.

The new Congress should, therefore, frame a bill to lessen our income taxation; it should also largely increase our revenue from the tariff by giving us a thoroughly Protective Tariff system, and then plan for the continuation of our entire bonded indebtedness and any additional issues which may have to be made for a long period before we begin to redeem these bonds.

The Chorus.
Harrisburg Telegraph.
President Wilson changes his mind and does not want a big navy and Daniels follows suit. Wilson changes his mind and declares for restoration of railroads and wires to private operation, and Vice President Marshall and Burleson change with him. Wilson changes his mind and suggests that dyes and chemicals be protected from German competition, and immediately the Tariff-Commission changes, and Willie Reinfeld begins to dig up statistics to support his change of mind.

The ducks follow the ducks. When he quacks, they quack. And they would change right back again if he gave the word.

But the Republican party has consistently stood for an adequate navy for private control of railroads, and wires and for protection to all domestic industries.

Just Folks

HOME TO RADIANT FUTURE.

Back to laughter and to love,
Back to peace and gentle ways;
Back to skies that bend above
With the charms of happy days.
Homeward now our heroes come
From the awful fields of strife,
Now the cannon's voice is dumb,
Death has given way to life.

Men go forth no more to die,
Youth may cling unto its dream;
Mothers now may cease to sigh,
Sheils no longer madly scream.
O'er their loved ones as they totter
Danger does not hedge them round;
Night shall hide no blood-stained soil,
Night shall bring no new-made mound.

Now to sweeter conquests we Turn our thoughts and build once more
For the joys we hope to see
As we did in days of yore.
Safely we may do and dare;
Now the future holds for man
Glorious things which we may share.

Homeward now our heroes come
Back to hope and morning glad,
Never more need muffled drums
Tell the passing of a lad.
Ended is the bitter strife,
Done the heart'sick and the fear;
Death has given way to life,
Youth now claims its happy year.

Youth may now be a maiden fair,
Youth may dream and hope and plan,
With courage venture where

NEWS OF THE DAY AT MT. PLEASANT BRIEFLY RELATED

West Penn Declines to Pave
its Share of Cherry Avenue.

TOWN WILL PROCEED WITH WORK

Completion of Improvement WPA Leave Surface of Street Foot and a Half Above the Trolley Rails, but the Company is Given the Blame.

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, June 12.—
Work has been begun by the borough
on the paving of Cherry avenue. According to a communication from the
the West Penn-Railways company the company will not improve its portion of the street. The borough, according to plans, will construct a two-foot concrete curb and will excavate
very little, so that the paved street
will be elevated approximately 18 inches above the rails of the trolley company. This will bring about an unusual condition but the borough authorities place the blame on the trolley company. The street will be paved with brick and the West Penn
will be assessed its share of the expense.

Some time ago an ordinance was adopted by the borough requiring that West Penn cars stop on the approach to the street and before crossing that street. That ordinance still governs the stopping of cars and will make the cars going south stop on the upper side of Main street, on Cherry avenue where the borough,
and not the West Penn, has improved
its part of the street.

M. L. Sullivan Dies.
M. L. Sullivan, aged 70 years, died at the Main street home of his son, Robert L. Sullivan, yesterday at noon.
No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Food for Europe's Needy.
J. H. Novak, the East End meat man, has sent a box weighing 244
pounds to the Czechoslovak association in New York to be sent to Prague,
in the Czechoslovak country in Europe. Novak has friends in this part of the country and word from them says that food of any kind can hardly be obtained. He was told that some must eat grass. In the box sent were flour, coffee, barley, rice and several cans of cocoa and canned milk. The food will be distributed to the most needy by the Red Cross at Prague. This is an individual donation from Novak who hopes that other Czechoslovaks in this county will follow suit.

NEW CHEMICAL KILLS BED BUGS P. D. Q.

The new golden colored chemical
P. D. Q. kills bed bugs. It is a new discovery and has been made whereby the retailer can get it from his wholesaler.

The new chemical, P. D. Q., is very powerful. A couple of ounces can be procured for a few cents and you'll have enough to kill a million bed bugs
if you could get that many together.
P. D. Q. does not rot or burn the springs or clothing. It leaves a coating on their eggs and prevents hatching.

P. D. Q. if properly used, kills the house entirely of the bed bugs, ants, fleas and ticks. Safe to use to rid your pet dog of the fleas.
A patent applied for in every package of P. D. Q. enabling you to get the peppery insects in the hard-to-get places.
Sold by Connelville Drug Co. and other leading druggists.—Adv.

AS YOUNG AS YOUR KIDNEYS

The secret of youth is elimination of poisons from your body.
This does not mean to be a hundred and enjoy the good things of life with as much "poison" as you did when in the springtime of youth. Keep your body in good condition. Keep your kidneys in good condition. They filter and purify the blood, all of which blood passes through them every three minutes. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you have nothing to fear. Drive the poisons out and your kidneys will do the work
from your system. Take GOLD MEDAL Bismarck Kidney Pills and you will always be in good condition. You will feel strong and vigorous, with steady nerves and elastic muscles.
GOLD MEDAL Bismarck Kidney Pills
are imported direct from the laboratories at Bismarck, England.
They are a reliable remedy which has been used by the steady Dutch for over 200 years. It has been found to develop into one of the strongest and healthiest means of the world. Get them from your druggist. Do not take a substitute. Is sealed package—
three doses.

Dromedary Came a Long Distance to Attend Methodist Centenary Celebration

THE first Methodist Centenary Celebration dromedary has arrived in Columbus, O., and has consented to an interview. In fact, so softened was his disposition by the familiar scenes which greeted him in the North Africa exhibit section at the exposition grounds that he smilingly consented to pose for a picture with the reporter perched precariously on his hump.
"I've come a long distance to attend
the Centenary celebration," he stated,
"and I don't regret a mile of it now

that I have seen the preparation
being made for it at the exposition grounds. This world's missionary exposition is going to beat anything I have ever seen, and I have seen many things in my travels.
The dromedary is one of a number of animals who are arriving to take part in the great Centenary celebration in Columbus. They will appear in the exhibitions of foreign countries, and some absolutely safe camels and elephants will be ridden by children who come to the exposition.

BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS

Have you noticed the rugged,
healthy complexion of our soldier boys—their elastic step, and strong manly bearing? This condition is due to outdoor life, plenty of exercise, regular habits and wholesome food.
Your responsibilities may not permit you to work live and play outdoors. You may have to grind away at a machine, a desk, or other employment, until your condition becomes staid. Indigestion, constipation, headaches and general debility follow. Your liver and kidneys fail to act properly, and your blood becomes poor and sluggish.
Don't be a health-slacker. Take Bliss Native Herb Tablets. They will relieve constipation, remove indigestion, help to prevent rheumatism and make you fit work for trade mark. Our money-back guarantee on every box.
Sold by A. A. Clarke and leading where.

Of course we laughed at such threats, but I confess that, as I went down to my cabin and picked up the "manifester," which had been forgotten in all the turmoil, I could not escape a certain thrill as I read the signature—for it was: "Henry P. Tobias, Jr."

That night we made Harbour Island, and met that welcome that can only be met at the lonely ends of the earth.

The commandant and the clergyman took me under their wings on the spot, and though there was a good hotel, the commandant didn't consider it good enough for me.

I liked the attitude they took toward my adventure. Their comments on "Henry P. Tobias, Jr." and the paper I had with me, were specially enlightening.

"The black men themselves," they both agreed, "are all right, except, of course, here and there. It's fellows like this precious Tobias, real white trash—the negroes' name for them is apt enough—that are the danger for the friendship of both races. And it's the vein of a sort of a literary idealism in a fellow like Tobias that makes him the more dangerous. He's not all to the bad."

"I couldn't help thinking that too," I interrupted.

"Oh, no," they said, "but he's a bit mad, too. That's his trouble. He's got a personal, as well as an abstract, grudge against the British government."

"Treasure?" I laughed.

"How did you know?" they asked.

"Never mind; I somehow got the idea."

"Take a word of advice. Have a few guns with you, for you're liable to need them."

"I agree," I remarked. "I'll take the guns all right, but I'm afraid I'll need some more crew. I mean I'll want an engineer, and another deck hand."

And, just as I said this, there came up some one post-haste from the village; some one, too, that wanted the clergyman, as well as me, for my captain was ill, and at the point of death.

"What on earth can be the trouble?" I said, but, the three of us, including the commandant went.

We found the captain lying in his berth, writhing with cramps.

"What on earth have you been doing with yourself, Cap?" I asked.

"I did nothing, sir, but eat my dinner, and drink that claret you were kind enough to give me."

"The half bottle of claret?"

"Yes, sir, the very same."

"Well, there was nothing to hurt you in that," I said. "Did you take it half and half with water, as I told you?"

"I did indeed, sir."

"It's very funny," I said. And then as he began to writhe and stiffen, I called out to Tom: "Get some rum, Tom, and make it boiling hot, quick—quick! We must get him into a sweat."

Very soon we did. Then I said to Tom:

"What do you make out of this smell that's coming from him, Tom?"

"Kerosene, sir," said Tom.

"I thought the very same," I said. Tom beckoned me to go with him to the galley, and showed me several quart bottles of water standing on a shelf.

"Two of these were kerosene," he said, "and I suppose Cap made a mistake for one looked as clear as the other."

Then I took one of them back to the captain.

"Was it a bottle like this you mixed with the claret?" I asked.

"Sure it was, sir," he answered, writhing hard with the cramps.

"But man!" I said. "Couldn't you tell the difference between that and water?"

"I thought it tasted funny, boss, but I wasn't sure."

And then we had to laugh again, and I thought old Tom was a bit mad.

"A nigger's stomach and his head, said the commandant, 'are about the same. I really don't know which is the stronger.'"

The captain didn't die, though he came pretty near to it. In fact, he took so long getting on his feet, that we couldn't wait for him; so we had practically to look out for a new crew, with the exception of Tom, and Sailor.

The commandant proved a good friend to us in this, choosing three somewhat characterless men, with good "char actors."

As we said goodbye, with a spanking southwest breeze blowing, I could see that he was a little anxious about me.

"Take care of yourself," he said, "for you must remember none of us can take care of you. There's no settlement where you're going—no telegraph or wireless; you could be murdered, and none of us hear of it for a month, or forever. And the fellows you're after are a dangerous lot, take my word for it. Keep a good watch on your guns, and we'll be on the lookout for the first news of you, and anything we can do we'll be there, you bet."

CHAPTER VI.

In Which the Sucking Fish Has a Chance to Show Its Virtue.

The breeze was so strong that we didn't need our engine that day. Besides, I wanted to take a little time thinking over my plans. I spent most of the time studying the charts and powdering John P. Tobias' narrative, which threw very little light on the situation. There was little definite in go by but his mark of the compass engraved on a certain rock in a wilderness of rocks; and such rocks as they were at that.

I looked well to my guns. The commandant had made me accept the loan of a particularly expert revolver that was, I could see as the apple of his eye. He must have cared for me a great deal to have lent it me, and it was right as the things were.

Then I called Tom to me. "How about that sucking fish, Tom?" I asked.

"It's just cured, sir," he said. "I was going to offer it to you this lunch time. It's dried out fine, couldn't be better. I'll bring it to you this minute. And he went and was back again in a moment. "You must wear it right over your heart," he said, "and you'll see there's not a bullet can get near it. It's never been known for a bullet to go through a sucking fish. It's God's truth."

"But, Tom," I said, "how about you?"

"I've worn one here, sir, for twenty years, and you can see for yourself," and he bared the brown chest beneath which beat the heart that like nothing else in the world has made me believe in God."

WHY COAL PRICES WILL MAKE A GAIN DURING EARLY FALL

Operators Foresee Conditions
Indicating a Certain Advance.

FACTORS OF SITUATION

Labor Shortage, Insufficient Transportation Facilities and Increased Demand, Both Domestic and Export, Presage a Coal Shortage, is Belief.

A coal shortage of country-wide extent next winter is predicted by J. D. A. Morrow, vice president of the National Coal Association, and A. W. Calloway, president of the Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad & Coal company following a meeting of the Pittsburgh Coal Operators' Association in Pittsburgh, where the subject was discussed at length. Already the coal shortage has begun to manifest itself, especially in the West Virginia fields, and by next November, they declared, it will have reached its full proportions.

These are some of the reasons advanced by Mr. Morrow and Mr. Calloway for the approaching coal famine: An unparalleled labor shortage, insufficient railroad transportation facilities and equipment, unprecedented export demand for fuel, increased demand for coal as fuel in Pennsylvania and Ohio due to the West Virginia law restricting the exportation of gas outside that state, and, lastly, and the principal cause, failure of the big consumers to stock up early when prices are low and production better than it will be in the winter.

The present shortage of coal could not be made up, they declare, even with a 100 per cent labor supply, and a capacity car supply. Mr. Morrow and Mr. Calloway declared where the consumers made their mistake was in not making the opinion that prices are abnormal and were bound to come down.

"There never were war prices," declared Mr. Calloway. "The government allowed the producer to sell coal at cost plus a reasonable profit. It became the popular opinion that this constituted a war-price fixing. It did, in one sense, but not the fixing of a high price such as was the case in the markets for other commodities. In fact, coal was about the cheapest necessary commodity during the war, and now, if anything, it is below what it really should be selling for. Those who held off in their buying in the hope that prices would fall are really responsible for the famine which is inevitable."

They confirmed reports that the nation is about to experience the greatest mine labor shortage in history, and as evidence of this, they pointed to official statistics showing that 40,000 miners are leaving this country now, or preparing to leave soon for their former homes in Europe.

"They have the money now—plenty of it," observed Mr. Morrow, "and are going back home."

Both declared that the shortage now beginning to manifest symptoms was foreseen as long ago as 1910. At that time the coal consuming world, they declared, was warned. In 1917, they recalled, there was a shortage, and it was hoped, after recovery from this, that the public would profit by the experience suffered at that time, and thus avert a repetition of the situation.

The West Virginia coal market, they declared, is "closing up"—sold out—and for this reason Pennsylvania high grade gas coal and smokeless coal also is showing a tendency to advance. In fact, higher prices than those which prevailed in the Pennsylvania field since the war started, are reported now, though unofficially.

As an illustration of the great shortage threatened very soon in the West Virginia market, Mr. Morrow and Mr. Calloway said that only last week the Navy inquired for 3,000,000 tons of coal. The responses received represented just 1,500,000 tons—only one-half of the requirements. West Virginia mine-run, they said, is now selling at from $2.75 a ton to $3.50 a ton, and domestic sizes from $3 to $4.50 per ton.

Europe alone reported only last week a coal shortage of more than 54,000,000 tons. And just as soon as sufficient ocean transportation facilities are available, it was predicted, the rush of coal from this country to Europe will begin. Supplying of export demand is going to be hindered later on, it was pointed out, by the presidential order giving precedence and priority on foodstuffs to Europe.

$1,000,000 Extension.
The Pollak Steel company has placed contracts for extensions to cost more than $1,000,000 at its Cincinnati and South Chicago plants. These extensions will include a drop-forging plant and a rolling mill for the manufacture of structural shapes.

EVERY RAILROAD MAN SHOULD READ THIS

Peterson's Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y. Dear Sirs: I was afflicted with what the doctors said was Varicose Ulcers, and up until about five weeks ago I have been treating them for about a year and five months. With all the treatments that were prescribed to me by several doctors I received little benefit, and the heat spreading and gave me much distress and caused me to quit my work. I was induced by a brother brakeman to try Peterson's Ointment, and after I had used two boxes I saw the wonderful results. You can tell suffering ones troubled with ugly, painful and horrid ulcers that your Ointment is a cure for them when everything else fails, as I have tried about everything. Thanking you many times over I am, your happy friend, Chas. J. Hoyer, Battle Creek, Mich., 42 Glenwood Avenue, January 12, 1916. "I know and dozens of people write me," says Peterson of Buffalo, "that Peterson's Ointment also cures eczema, old sores, salt rheum, piles and all skin diseases, and all druggists sell a big box for 35 cents."—Adv.
